About the author

Hello, I'm Samantha

After 10 years of working in the hospitality and events industry and living as an expat in many countries, I decided to teach my mother tongue to expats in French-speaking countries (mostly Luxembourg, France, and Belgium).

Today, I am myself an expat and passionate about language learning. I do speak French, English, and Italian fluently.

Experience the French: learn to speak French online.

I firmly believe that language exposure forms the bedrock of French language acquisition, enabling my students to adapt swiftly to real-world conversational scenarios with confidence and ease.

That's why I prioritize a dynamic and immersive approach to learning French.

Experience the French teaches you how to communicate effectively in French.

The methodology revolves around fostering strong oral proficiency and providing rich language exposure.

I empower my students to actively engage with the French language, enhancing their fluency and maintaining motivation to improve.
